

THE DEMOCRAT

Monday - June 28

County School Superintendent.

We are authorized to announce Captain G. W. CROOK as a candidate for County Superintendent of Free Schools of Lewis county.

Election August 13, 1875.

We are authorized to announce MAJOR T. SMITH, of Big Skin Creek, as a candidate for Superintendent of Free Schools of Lewis county.

We are authorized to announce WM. L. WHITE, Esq., as a candidate for Superintendent of Free Schools of Lewis county.

We are permitted to copy into our paper this week, the following beautiful extract of a letter written by one of our most distinguished statesmen. It speaks for itself. Read it.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21, 1875.

Dear Sir:—I received this morning the copy of THE WESTON DEMOCRAT of this date, which you were so kind as to send me, containing your admirable address delivered before the Professors, Students and citizens of your town.

It occurred to me, at first, that you had rather over-colored the results of the Baconian Philosophy; but when it is recollected that Bacon is the admitted father of experimental philosophy, that it was he who brought down philosophy from heaven to earth, disengaging it from airy abstractions, and anchoring it on practical truths, I cannot well see, how the merits of such a grand intellectual reformer could be exaggerated.

Your brief allusion to the early lives of Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Andrew Johnson, Henry Wilson and Stonewall Jackson, and their rise from unprotected poverty to positions of eminence and usefulness in our country, are beautiful commentaries upon the genius of our government, and must have proved highly interesting to your hearers.

To my mind the two most interesting examples which you gave of the triumphs of genius and intellect over the disadvantages of early poverty, are Daniel Webster and Stonewall Jackson. I do not know whether you ever read a letter from Mr. Webster which has been preserved, giving a most touching account of an incident that occurred between himself and his father when he was about eleven years of age. It is thus described by himself: "On a hot day in July, it must have been in one of the last years of Washington's administration, I was making hay with my father, just where I now see a remaining elm-tree. About the middle of the forenoon the Honorable Abiel Foster, M. C., who lived in Canterbury, six miles off, called at the house, and came into the field to see my father. He was a worthy man, college-bred, and had been a minister, but not a person of any considerable natural power. My father was his friend and supporter. He talked a while in the field and went on his way. When he was gone, my father called me to him, and we sat down beneath the elm on a hay-cock. He said: 'My son, that is a worthy man; he is a member of Congress; he goes to Philadelphia, and gets six dollars a day, while I toil here. It is because he had an education, which I never had. If I had had his education I should have been in Philadelphia in his place. I came near it as it was. But I missed it, and I must work here.' 'My dear father,' said I, 'you shall not work. Brother and I will work for you, and will wear our hands out, and you shall rest.' And I remember to have cried, and I cry now at the recollection. 'My child, said he, 'it is of no importance to me. I now live but for my children. I could not give your elder brothers the advantages of knowledge, but I can do something for you. Exert yourself, improve your opportunities, learn, learn, and when I am gone, you will not need to go through the hardships which I have undergone, and which made me an old man before my time.'"

Can anything be more exquisitely beautiful than this simple picture drawn by the hand of a master, of paternal solicitude for his child on the one part, and of boyish manliness and filial devotion on the other?

You refer to your recollections of General Thomas J. Jackson in 1842, when you "found him a poor orphan boy running up and down the streets of Weston performing the duties of a constable," to which office he was humbly appointed by the County Court before he was of age, to enable him to procure the means of education and to "make a man of himself." What a striking incident in the life of that great and heroic christian warrior!

We are prouder of Weston now than ever. A poor young man reared here, to be thus favorably compared with Daniel Webster, is no ordinary compliment to our county. And to our townsman William E. Arnold, Esq., we feel under many obligations for his recollections of our illustrious son, and the prominence he has given our place by his elegant address. We have now placed in full view the early life of a hero, who cannot fail to arrest the attention of some future Gibbon or Hume, when he shall come to gather his jewels and write our country's history.

It is believed that Governor Allen will be re-elected in Ohio by twenty-five thousand at the least. The Grangers and the people are for him; they know he can be trusted, and when they find such a politician in these times of loose morals they hold on to him.

—As yet Upshur county has but one candidate for Superintendent of Free Schools.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color. A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of falling the hair with a pesty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit, but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts a long time on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

A CARD.
